

Eat Pray Love Felipe-Liz

Felipe: Close them again. Close your eyes.

Liz: Careful. You don't wanna break a tooth or anything.

Felipe: Don't worry, but close your eyes... You helped Wayan to get a house

Liz: I know

Felipe: And now we're going to celebrate.

Liz: Okay

Felipe: Here you go. Open your eyes. We are going to take a little road trip.

Liz: Where?

Felipe: Where? To a deserted beach. It's my favorite place in the world. I've packed for two. We can stay there until next Tuesday. And I have the perfect camping spot. Just you and I and 400 parrots. Do you like it?

Liz: Mmm ahh

Felipe: I was going to save it for tonight, but I think this is the right moment. I have to be in Bali because my business is here and you have to be in New York because that's where your life is, right? What is we tried to create a life that is divided between the two places?

Liz: Why would you wanna do that?

Felipe: Because I'm in love with you. Let's go. Let's go.

Liz: Oh, no. I...

Felipe: What?

Liz: I can't. I'm sorry. I just...

Felipe: You can't

Liz: I'm sorry. I can't. I can't go on a trip right now, okay? I... I haven't home in five days. I haven't seen Ketut in weeks. It's just too much.

Felipe: It's not to much. To go... by ourselves... apart from everything else for a couple of days, is that much for you? Liz, nao entendo. What's the problem, Liz? I mean, I have the same fears, I have the same scars that you have and I show them to you. But I guess the only difference between you and I is, that you are afraid to love again. My darling, this is it. You have to look me in the eyes and let me know the truth. Please. Do you love me or do you love me not? Look me in the eyes and tell me do you love me or do you love me not? It's very easy. I know you feel the same way I do... Why can't you say it back?

Liz: I don't know why. What can't I?

Felipe: Because you are terrified, my love. But listen, it's fine. Me too. But I still want to get into that car with you.

Liz: No. Okay, look. Look.

Felipe: What?

Liz: I don't know why you can't understand this. I found something and I can't give it up. And trust me, if I did, you wouldn't be so all in love with me.

Felipe: Okay, the balance thing. You traveled around the world to find your balance. And the balance that you think you've found is what? Meditating for 20 minutes and going to see an old medicine man? Listen, balance, my darling, balance is not letting anybody love you less than you love yourself.

Liz: You know what? You know what? Do not tell me what lessons I have and haven't learned in the last year and don't tell me how balanced and wise you are and how I can't express myself. And do not say "darling" to me again because I am just gonna lose it. Listen to me! I do not need to love you to prove that I love myself.

Felipe: Run away from me. But you are running away from all the great possibilities of your own life. I'm getting in to that car.
